

FIVE INDICTED BY MILITARY AT TULSA RELEASED

First of Thirty Indicted Are Freed Before Examining Trial.

SEVEN MEN HELD

Four of Those Indicted Are Released by Order of King.

TULSA, Sept. 19.—Five men indicted by Gov. J. C. Walton's Tulsa county military commission investigating mob violence and hooded band activities here since mid-August, were freed in civil courts today when arraigned for preliminary hearing. They were the first of 30 men thus far indicted by the military tribunal to be released.

To date 12 of the 30 accused men have been arraigned for preliminary hearing. Seven have been held for preliminary trial and five released.

Four of those freed today were released at the request of Assistant Attorney General C. W. King who agreed that there was insufficient evidence to justify a trial. The fifth release was at the order of County Judge John P. Boyd also because of insufficient evidence.

The men released were as follows: Marshall T. Moore, accused of participating in the flogging of J. S. Lawhorn, a Jenks store keeper; William Bills, George Bradshaw; Tom Matthews and Harvey Acers accused of having whipped Mrs. Myrtle Spain and Eugene Goolsby after the two had been arrested on misconduct charges in Broken Arrow.

TULSA, Sept. 19.—The scheduled court test of authority between the military and civil officers in Tulsa county was put over to Thursday when Assistant Attorney General C. W. King today secured a continuance of habeas corpus proceedings in District Judge A. C. Hunt's court involving three convicted floggers held by the military here.

Meanwhile the storm against the governor is brewing in Oklahoma City. State legislators are gathering there to perfect plans for an extraordinary session of the state assembly in defiance of the chief executive who has said that he would jail the law makers should they attempt to convene themselves against his wishes. No secret is made of the fact that if the legislature convenes impeachment proceedings will be instituted against Governor Walton, should sufficient basis for charges be found.

Despite the executive's threat to imprison all solons who attempt to hold a special session because "it would interfere with the prosecution of the fight against the Ku Klux Klan," assemblymen fostering the movement are positive in their declaration that they are within their rights. They assert the session will be called as soon as signatures of a majority of the members of both houses can be obtained. Plans for the session are for it to meet as an "inquisitorial body" to investigate conditions of the state, and not to attempt any legislation.

The military courts of inquiry here and at Oklahoma City investigating the cause of mob violence continued their work today. It was indicated that something of a sensational nature might be expected as a result of testimony received by the court at the capital.

TULSA, Sept. 19.—Norris Evans and Jack Hyde, charged yesterday in military information alleging participation in the masked band attack on the home of L. A. Cook in an outlying district on May 26, were held under bonds of $1,500 each when arraigned today before Common Pleas Judge Font Allen. Of the 14 indicted for floggings thus far nine have been held for criminal trial and five released.

Solons May Get Wild-Nichols

(By the Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Sept. 19.—Is not this a very unwise time to have a session of the legislature? Legislatures are prone to go wild in ordinary times and what would you expect at this time? asked Senator Clark Nichols of Enfield in an open letter today to all members of the upper house of the assembly in opposition to an extraordinary session to try charges against Governor Walton.

"Let us wait for the cooling time," Senator Nichols concluded.

In the event that Perry Miller or W. E. Disney are longer residents of Muskogee county where they were elected will be the grounds advanced to declare their seats vacant.

MILLION LOSSES AT OKLAHOMA CITY

Capital City Suffers Damages from Storm; Coliseum Damaged.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19.—Complications today of the damage sustained by a terrific wind and hailstorm that struck Oklahoma City last night indicated that the total loss would approximate $1,000,000. Damage to the Oklahoma City coliseum, one end of which was blown in, was estimated at $75,000. The home of Mayor O. A. Cargill was unroofed and otherwise damaged.

Utilities companies reported extensive damage to poles and wires. Every street car line in the city was tied up for a short time after the storm had passed and interurban cars were held several hours. The North Canadian river stood at 11 feet 5 inches here with flood stage at 12 feet. Reports from upstream were that the river was out of its banks and rising rapidly.

Rains that have fallen over the state almost without intermission since last Friday, continued last night and today. Holdenville with 5.28 inches reported the heaviest down pour. Hammon with 4.03; Okemah with 4.46 and Kingfisher with 4.20 were runners up to Holdenville.

SNOW BLIZZARD GRIPS GOLD MINING VILLAGE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 19.—Telephone communication with the Cripple Creek gold camp which was cut off from the outside world late yesterday by a sudden blizzard may be restored today, company officials said. Three crews of workmen numbering 100 in all have been sent into the mountains to repair the lines put out of commission when 300 poles went down in a heavy snow storm. Snow already had fallen to a considerable depth in the higher areas and it is proposed to lay temporary lines across the drifts. The town of Victor across the gulch from Cripple Creek also was without telephone communication yesterday and last night.

Travel to the summit of Pike's Peak has been suspended because of huge drifts. A rotary snow plow reached the top late in the day over the cog road. Drifts more than four feet deep were encountered.

BRISTOW.—Charging that the Slick Gas Company was responsible for an explosion which wrecked a portion of his store and injured him, William Gibbs of Slick sued the company for $6,000 damages. The gas company, after an investigation, asserted that Gibbs had tossed a burning match on the floor after lighting his pipe and the case was settled out of court, Gibbs receiving $515.

NURSE DEAD; MAN IS BEING SOUGHT

Nurse at Hospital Dumped in Chair by Man Now Being Sought.

(By the Associated Press)

ROCKFORD, Ill., Sept. 19.—Authorities prepared today to perform an autopsy to fix the cause of the death of Seva Olesen, 26-year-old nurse, whose body was brought into St. Anthony's hospital here last night and placed in a wheel chair by a man who fled before Sister Baptista, a Belgian nun, who saw him could make herself understood by the other nurses.

Meanwhile deputy sheriffs, furnished with a description of the man by the nun, continued their search for him.

The nun, whose knowledge of English is slight, said she was near the hospital entrance when the man drove up in an automobile in which was carried the body of the girl.

He told her the girl was ill and that he had found her lying on the street. The nun assisted in carrying the girl into the hospital and attempted to detain him but he left at once in the machine. She described him as about 20 years old, 6 feet tall and weighing 200 pounds.

Hospital physicians said the nurse had been dead only a few minutes. They found no marks of violence on the body and said indications were that death was due to narcotic poisoning.

Earlier in the evening hospital authorities said Miss Olesen had been given permission to leave the institution to go downtown.

During the illness of Mayor John F. Hylan, Murray Hulbert, president of the board of aldermen of the city of New York, is acting as mayor.

STATE FAIR TO CLAIM SANCTION

Governor Countermands Ban on Fairs at Oklahoma City and Muskogee.

The Oklahoma State Free Fair is again a reality after Governor J. C. Walton removed the ban, which he placed over the holding of the annual celebration, according to a telegram received here last night from Ralph T. Hemphill, secretary and general manager of the Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition.

Hemphill stated in the telegram that Governor Walton had given his assurance that the fair or visitors to the fair would not be interfered with by the military.

Hemphill stressed the order counteracting the ban and declared that all plans previously announced would be followed out.

Washouts on Katy and Frisco Hinder Traffic Out of Ada.

Railroad transportation again came to a halt when rains over this section of the state impaired the tracks to the extent that connection from other points in the state was practically severed.

With the heavy rain of last night, the Katy bridge, which bears the brunt of flood conditions on the Canadian river, was again threatened and the bridge out of line to the extent that trains were not permitted to cross it.

Local rail officials feared that the bridge would again be swept down stream but at 3 o'clock today no reports had been received at local offices to the effect that the bridge had been washed out.

Katy trains from Oklahoma City were detained by way of Holdenville.

Traffic on the Frisco was temporarily halted when a bridge and several hundred feet of trackage was washed out between Weleetka and Wetumka. Frisco trains were detained at Weleetka and connections completed on the Port Smith and Northwestern railroad.

The Santa Fe reported that their schedule had not been interfered with by the rains.

Heavy Rains in County Detriment to Crop Prospects

Continued rainfall in this section of the state has had a detrimental effect on crop prospects in Pontotoc county, reports from over the county indicate.

The rains have been especially injurious to the cotton crop, delaying the picking season and damaging the bolls already matured.

The official reading of the government rain gauge here indicates that a total of approximately 7 1/2 inches of rainfall has been responsible for the seige on crops in the county.

E. A. MacMillan, government weather man, stated that the county received a rainfall of 1 1/2 inches last night.

DRASTIC CUT SLATED FOR MIDCONTINENT OIL

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, Sept. 19.—A drastic cut in the price of Midcontinent crude oil and a radical change in the classification of the grades heretofore used was announced by the Prairie Oil and Gas Co. which this morning posted a new schedule of prices which cut former prices from 15 to 70 cents a barrel and reduced the number of grades from 8 to 3.

The new quotations are: below 33 degrees 90 cents; 33 to 39.90 degrees $1.30; 40 degrees and above $1.75.

While the cut by the Prairie has been expected in oil circles due to recent reductions by the Magnolia and other purchasers, the reduction was not expected to be so large and the change in grading was not looked for.

OPERATE SECRETLY

Walton Remains Silent About Move Fostered to Impeach Him.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19.—Legislative opponents of Gov. J. C. Walton went ahead today with plans for the convening of the lower house of the legislature in special session with a view of bringing impeachment proceedings against the executive.

Sponsors of the fight on Walton expressed confidence that the attempt to hold the session would materialize by Saturday.

A formal call for the meeting was placed in circulation this morning with the announcement that when sufficient signatures are obtained the document will be filed with the secretary of state.

Verbal assurances of support have been given by 70 of the 107 members of the house, according to the directors of the movement. Emisseries of the headquarters of the movement here were working over the state today interviewing legislators to get their signatures on the session call.

The text of the call will not be made public until it is filed with the secretary of state. However, it is understood to contain charges against the governor upon which the impeachment attempt will be made.

Walton Remains Silent.

Gov. Walton has remained silent regarding the situation since several days ago when he promised to put the law makers in jail and keep them there if they convened without his call. Secret service operatives of the executive are keeping close watch on the men directing the session movement.

State officers were reported today to be on the trail of an automobile in which it is said state records of the Ku Klux Klan were rushed out of Oklahoma before martial law was invoked in Oklahoma City. It was indicated that the records were desired by the military court of inquiry in session here.

BRITISH STAND ON LIQUOR PROPOSALS CLAIMED UNFRIENDLY

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The British reply to Secretary Hughes' proposal for a reciprocal agreement on ship liquor regulations and liquor smuggling was received at the state department today and was described as officials "in general not sympathetic towards the proposals."

The British government plans, however, to present the question to the British imperial conference which meets in London next month.

State department officials view the British communication as laying open the possibility of negotiating a double-barreled treaty to curb rum running and also to facilitate legitimate liquor shipments in foreign ships. There was no attempt, however, to disguise the fact that the British government had indicated general disapproval of the plan and raised objections against it.

Women

Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back of beauty—Health—working silently—Red blood tingling through the veins;—the glow of youth in the cheeks;—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk;—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry.—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved-for attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1826, has been ridding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientifically prepared and proportioned. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. It is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

To the many thousands who read and loved "It Winter Comes," the novel by A. S. M. Hutchinson, the screen version of the book is being looked forward to with the greatest interest.

Old puzzleheaded Mark Sabre, the unsympathetic Mable, pathetic Effie, deftful and loyal Hi and Low Jinks and the sweet, winsome Lady Tybar who finally solves the puzzles for Mark and makes him happy—we want to see them all. Mingled with our wish is the very natural wonder if they will seem like our old friends in the book.

Here is the answer in part. Could anyone be more Lady Tybar-er than Ann Forrest in this picture? Isn't she sweet and winsome with the right touch of pathos—for she, too, you remember, was not happy in her marriage.

And Percy Marmont—doesn't he make an ideal Mark—puzzling over the problems of our social life and its apparent unfairness and yet seeing the necessity for many of its restrictions?

This William Fox production has just commenced its initial run in New York. It is said to deviate not an inch from the story of the book. It is to be presented almost simultaneously in the Palace theatre in London.

"GOOD SAMARITANS" WRECK 'NOTHER FILM

A shipwreck was staged so realistically in the San Francisco Harbor, where the Ince company recently spent a fortnight filming special sea scenes for Thomas H. Ince's "Anna Christie" that the livesaving station mistook the activity for a signal of distress and quickly sent two big life-boats to the rescue. Director John Griffith Wray sent up an agonized wail from the raft where the cameras were gridding, but the rescue boats had already "hugged" the scene and the "punch" of two hundred feet of film showing three men fighting an angry sea was lost.

miles that she had danced for rehearsals and scenes in "Her Reputation." Thomas H. Ince's big newspaper drama which will be released shortly by First National, she discovered that she had done enough distance to entitle her to a cup. Miss McAvoy, who has one of her most appealing roles as "Jacqueline Lanier," the girl who becomes a front page story, appears in several novel dancing scenes in the production. Lloyd Hughes plays the role of a youthful news reporter, heading a fine supporting cast. The picture was directed by John Griffith Wray.

INSURANCE TERM TAKEN FOR VOTE

State to Go to Polls on Compensation Phase in Workers Insurance.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19.—Electors of the state, if they favor amendment of the present Oklahoma industrial compensation provisions to include compensation for death, will be asked at a special election October 2 to adopt a proposed constitutional amendment to that effect.

Present compensation for industrial accidents provides for injuries sustained while the employee is performing his duties but do not offer any means of recovery for relatives in case an employee meets death.

"The right of action to recover damages for injuries resulting in death shall never be abrogated," reads the proposed amendment which is to be submitted to voters. "The amount recoverable shall not be subject to any statutory limitations except as to injuries arising out of, or occurring in, or incident to such industries, occupations and employments as may be covered by or made subject to legislation providing for compensation to employees and their dependants as provided in this section," it continues.

The remainder of the resolution for submitting the proposed amendment follows:

"The legislature shall have plenary power, unlimited by any provision of this constitution, to create and enforce a complete system of workmen's compensation, by appropriate legislation, and in that behalf to create and enforce a liability on any part of or any or all persons, irrespective of the fault of either party, to compensate any or all persons who sustain injuries arising out of, or in the course of, or incident to the employment, or services rendered by such persons, and their dependants, if death results from injuries. The legislature maintain the necessary agency or shall have plenary power to provide for the security of payment of such compensation and to create and agencies for the administration of legislation enacted pursuant to this section."

The ballot will carry beneath the proposed amendment the question, "Shall the proposed amendment be adopted?" and a space for answering.

SOONERS LAUNCH BIG GRID SQUAD

Full Crews Fighting for Places on Oklahoma's Grid Team.

(By the Associated Press)
NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 19.—The first week of football practice on the Sooner field has given Bennie Owen, dictator of Soonerland's gridiron activities, a fairly accurate outlook as to just what he may expect. On paper the football prospects for the University of Oklahoma are the best since Oklahoma entered the Missouri Valley Conference some years ago. It is believed. But the schedule is probably the stiffest one.

Nineteen football letter men will be in the harness again this year and only four members of the 1922 team were lost through graduation. Added to these nineteen veterans, Bennie Owen will have thirty young athletes who were graduated from the freshman team last fall and who will demand serious attention for a place on the 1923 varsity.

The Sooners plunge into their hardest game of the schedule in the opening contest when they journey to Lincoln, Neb., to play the University of Nebraska October 13. The Sooner coaches are centering their early attention on this game and know that if it results in an Oklahoma victory, a conference championship is in sight.

Captain Barney "Pete" Hammert, halfback, will lead Oklahoma. He will play his second year and is one of the few Oklahoma athletes ever elected to a captaincy before reaching his senior year. Halfbacks are numerous. Charles Pokorney, Herschel Graham and Gordon Bristow, all letter men of last season, and Alvin Jackson, third year veteran, will be among those competing for halfback positions.

Quarterbacks are also numerous with Eddie Johnson, veteran of two years, Earl Hendricks, Edward Strouville and Daniel Vogle, veteran of one year's service, working for this position as well as several promising members of last year's freshman squad.

At fullback Roy Lee and Gordon Bristow, both letter men, will be matched by two freshmen of unusual ability, Woodall and Lamb.

The line is still another problem for the Sooner coaches since every position except ends will have a host of excellent material working for each position.

Herbert Schafer, Glenn Hartford, William Patterson and Alfred McFadden are letter men who will be working for center's berth. James Thompson is the only veteran guard but he is expected to have great competition from last year's first year men.

At tackle James Penick, LaZelle White and Clifford Bowles, veterans, will be in the running and two freshmen of last year, Guffy and Wilcox, will probably land on the varsity.

End is the problem which apparently bothers the Sooner coaching staff, although there are four ends who made letters last year. They are Clinton Steinberger, Don Mathes, Lloyd Boatright and Tom Swanson. All are second year men and Swanson is the only member who ever played end before last year.

Letters were written to thirty-two members of last year's freshman squad ordering them to report for training at the opening of the valley coaching season September 15. Every one of these thirty-two men are probable candidates for varsity positions. Bennie Owen says.

The University of Oklahoma coaching staff this year, besides the beloved Bennie Owen, comprises James R. Tolbert, line coach; Edgar D. Beacham, B. S. Graham and Hugh McDermott, assistant coaches.

After the invasion of the Husker camp at Lincoln October 13, the Sooners return to Norman for three consecutive games, the third of which is to be the home coming game. It will be with the University of Kansas on November 3. Only one more game after the Sooner-Jayhawk battle will be played on the Sooner field—the Oklahoma-Drake game on November 29.

LONDON SURPRISED WITH BUSY AIRDOOME QUARTERS

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON—For the first time since its creation many Londoners who stayed in town on bank-holiday discovered London's great air-port at Croydon, and were duly surprised to find it very like a main-line railway station.

There is a level crossing near the entrance where a flagman holds up the road traffic while big Handley-Page and other planes roar across the roadway prior to leaving earth for Paris, Rotterdam, Cologne or Hamburg. Once past the flagman, the visitor comes to a compact village in which headquarters of various air services are situated round an up-to-date hotel, adjacent to a postoffice, meteorological office, air administrative headquarters and customs establishment.

Enormous charts are set up on which the progress of various services are flagged by an official who is in constant wireless touch with planes on their way to and from various capitals. Should any particular plane be arriving late, it is ordered to wait and taxi around until an outgoing liner is clear and so avoid risk of a collision. On the ground there is a rush of porters and interpreters to meet incoming and outgoing planes. After being in the heavens several hours, conditions, or alighting, are very similar to those at a railway station.

In connection with the $100,000,000 electrical supply project at Melbourne, Australia, a model town to house 3000 people in homes to cost over $3,200,000 has been started.

Can the Surplus Poultry

(Nelle Portrey)
In Farm and Ranch
There is no better way of disposing of poor layers and old roosters than to can them. Our busiest days are over, so it will not be too much of an added burden and the canned fowls will be highly appreciated some time when you are busy and unexpected company "drops in." In few minutes before meal time and the larder happens to be low. And they are especially convenient for fixing school lunches. The young chickens may be fried and canned and the tougher fowls should be boiled.

It is well to remember, in canning poultry, that the utmost precaution must be used, as any meat is more difficult to can successfully than fruits and vegetables. Be sure to allow full period for sterilization and it will not harm the meat or spoil the flavor if it is allowed to sterilize over time. It is best to use old fruit jar rubbers till thirty minutes before removing from the water bath. Then put on new ones and allow for loss of time during the change.

Never coat meat when frying preparatory to canning, as this interferes with the perfect sterilization. This refers to flour coating, corn meal or cracker crumbs.

While a pressure cooker is handy and desirable to use in canning by the one-period cold pack method, it is by no means necessary. However, with the general scarcity of fuel this year, it a great saving, as canning does not require nearly so long processing. They may be

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Dr. Louise Stanley.

Dr. Louise Stanley is the new chief of the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture, Washington. She has recently arrived in Washington to take up her duties. She will have fifty employees on her staff and will be paid a salary of approximately $5,000 a year.

Dr. Stanley was formerly dean of home economics at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri.

WOMAN ON STOCK EXCHANGE

For the first time in history a woman has appeared on the floor of the Amsterdam Stock Exchange. She represents an Amsterdam firm of brokers.

HEADS CONGRESS OF WORKING WOMEN

Mrs. Raymond Robins, social economist of Chicago, international president of the Women's Trade Union League, and prominently identified with that organization for a number of years, went abroad recently to attend the International congress of Working Women in Vienna. The congress was held in Schenbrunn, the former castle of the Austrian emperor.

WOMEN TO TAKE TO MECHANICS

The popular conception that the feminine mind takes no interest in things mechanical has been blasted at the Remy Electric Company of Anderson, Ind., as the result of the last "suggestion" campaign. These campaigns are for the purpose of making improvements in machinery and products, to manufacture the product more economically, to better safeguard employees from injury and to produce a better commodity.

Of the 3,000 employees at the plant, 25 percent are women. Thirty percent of the suggestions that have been sent in and have won prizes are from women.

BEQUEATHS FORTUNE TO WOMAN'S PARTY

Mrs. E. M. Levy of Ridgewood, N. J., became interested in the National Woman's Party last year. It became known recently that she had made a new will in which she bequeathed $50,000 to the party of which Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont is chairman and Miss Alice Paul, vice-chairman.

used to good advantage in the cooking of meats and vegetables.

Fried Chicken
Kill the fowl and clean it in the usual way. When cool, cut into convenient sized pieces. Season and fry as usual but without coating. Fry three-fourths done and pack closely in jars. Pour one-fourth jar full of the fat in which the fowl was fried. Put on the rubbers and caps. Screw the caps as tight as you can turn them with the thumb and forefinger. Place in water bath and sterilize for two hours. If a pressure cooker is used that carries from 10 to 15 pounds steam pressure, 40 minutes is long enough to sterilize the meat. When you remove the jars from the sterilizing tighten the caps and turn upside down where the caps can not be struck by a draught. When cool, wrap in paper and put in a darkened room or cellar.

Boiled Chicken
Prepare as for fried chicken and when cool, place in a kettle and boil till meat is tender enough to be removed from bones. You may either remove the bones or leave on the bones, but it is really advisable to at least remove the largest ones. Pack closely in sterilized jars, and fill the jars with the pot liquid that has been boiled down half. Add a level teaspoon salt to each quart. Place the rubbers and caps as for fried chicken. Sterilize in water bath outfit for three and one-half hours if the bones are removed, or four and one-half hours if the bones are unremoved. Finish as for fried chicken. If pressure outfit is used, sterilize one-third as long. If any broth is left it may be canned for soup stock. If two-quart jars are used, add 10 percent to the time of sterilization.

STAMP FAD NOT ON WANE, PATRONS SAY

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The old fad for collecting postage stamps not only is not on the wane, but is going stronger than ever, according to members of the American Philatelic Society, who recently concluded here what they characterized as the most successful gathering since the organization was founded 38 years ago. More than 250 attested to the popularity of collecting when they bid quick and lively at an auction in which several hundred stamps and groups were put up.

In all more than $6,100 was paid over as a result of the bidding. The highest price paid was $560 for a four cent blue stamp issued by British Guiana in 1856, and which was considered a rare specimen. The fact that such a price was paid for a stamp not in best condition was regarded as indicative of the interest collectors still retain. This stamp in prime condition is listed at a catalog price of $4,000.

Stamp collecting, though, isn't what it used to be, the "old timers" say. There are too many "wise ones" in the field and it is no longer possible to pick up valuable rarities for a song. Even the children, they declare, now know a good one when they see it. They all hark back to the time when such and such a stamp could be got anywhere for a few cents but is now quoted and bought for as many dollars.

One of the interesting specimens which evoked a lively minute of bidding and finally brought an exceptional price was a pink three cent United States stamp of the issue of 1861, the cancellation of which was a Devil with pitchfork. This type has come to be known as the "Old Boy Himself" issue.

Remarkable Movie on Undersea Life Now at American

J. E. Williamson's remarkable undersea picture, which comes direct from a three-week consecutive run at the Rialto and Rivoli Theatres, New York City, will be presented for the first time in Ada, at the American Theatre, today, as the feature attraction at hat house.

Distributed by Film Booking Offices, "Wonders of the Sea" is a gathering of marvelously dramatic episodes, such as a battle with a deadly moray and a vicious barracuda and the capture of a shark on a hook before the eyes of the camera. Romantic sunken ships are the scenes of undersea exploration, and a delightful story of an oceanographer, a stowaway boy, an artist and a beautiful girl binds it together into an unusual novelty. The late Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, appears in the picture, making a trip along the bottom of the sea, and the new chemical diving device by which it is possible to go about unencumbered with ropes and airlines is also interestingly presented in the new Williamson production.

NEW FALL SUITS

That Combine Style and Value

The best quality for the least amount of money, characterizes the suits we have here this season. And, of course, it goes without saying that style features an important role in every instance.

Suits for Young Men, are the ones with less constraining lines than have been worn heretofore, seen mostly in three-button sack coats. Very English and supremely correct, these are.

Our suits for the older man who wants a dash of style here and there, are as conservative as a 4% investment. Seen mostly in three-button models with no exaggeration. Plain colors, stripes and discreet plaids speak louder than words.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HOW TO GET ON:—Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find.—Matthew 7:7.

More than 60 years have fled since the guns in Charleston harbor sent their hail of shells crashing against the walls of Fort Sumpter, thus marking the opening of a conflict that in many respects has no counterpart in the history of the world.

The next chapter of the story was soon written, the flower of Southern manhood hastening to the front offering itself on the altar of devotion to their beloved Southland and many being called upon to make the supreme sacrifice. For four weary years they kept up the unequal struggle and laid down their arms in honor when worn out by their titanic exertions, supplies exhausted and the last hope of beating back the invaders fled when the thinned ranks of grey could no longer be filled.

Great as was the glory achieved by the men who followed Lee and Jackson and faced death in every form without flinching, the unconquerable spirit of these men in rebuilding their homes and in accepting with resignation the inevitable merits fully as much admiration. It was to a scene of desolation that the Confederate soldiers returned. In rags, hungry, footsore and heart sick these men returned to the ashes of their homes. With nothing save their bare hands with which to begin life anew they never flinched. Slowly at first they made progress in the herculean labor that confronted them, but without a murmur they set themselves to accomplish a task that might have appalled the stoutest heart. Under a crushing weight of carpet-bag and negro corruption in government they went ahead, displaying a forbearance in the face of oppression and the domination of the most corrupt gang of adventurers that ever ravaged a nation, setting an example that all future generations may well emulate.

At last freed from the heel of the marauders who had sought to crush the already stricken South, the Confederate veterans went forward as never men went before and flourishing cities arose from the ashes of the destroyed ones, well tilled farms took the place of the devastated plantations, comfortable dwellings replaced the cabins which had afforded shelter at first, railroads wended their way across the country, linking it with the rest of the world, the whistle of the factory was heard and the South was once more coming into her heritage with which nature endowed her.

Whether viewed as a soldier or as an ideal citizen the Confederate soldier made good. Accepting the result of the war in good faith he gave the Union his undivided loyalty. He still loves the starry battle flag with its blue cross because of the associations of other days but when at these annual reunions he walks beneath its folds, his heart beats with loyalty to the stars and stripes, the flag of an undivided nation.

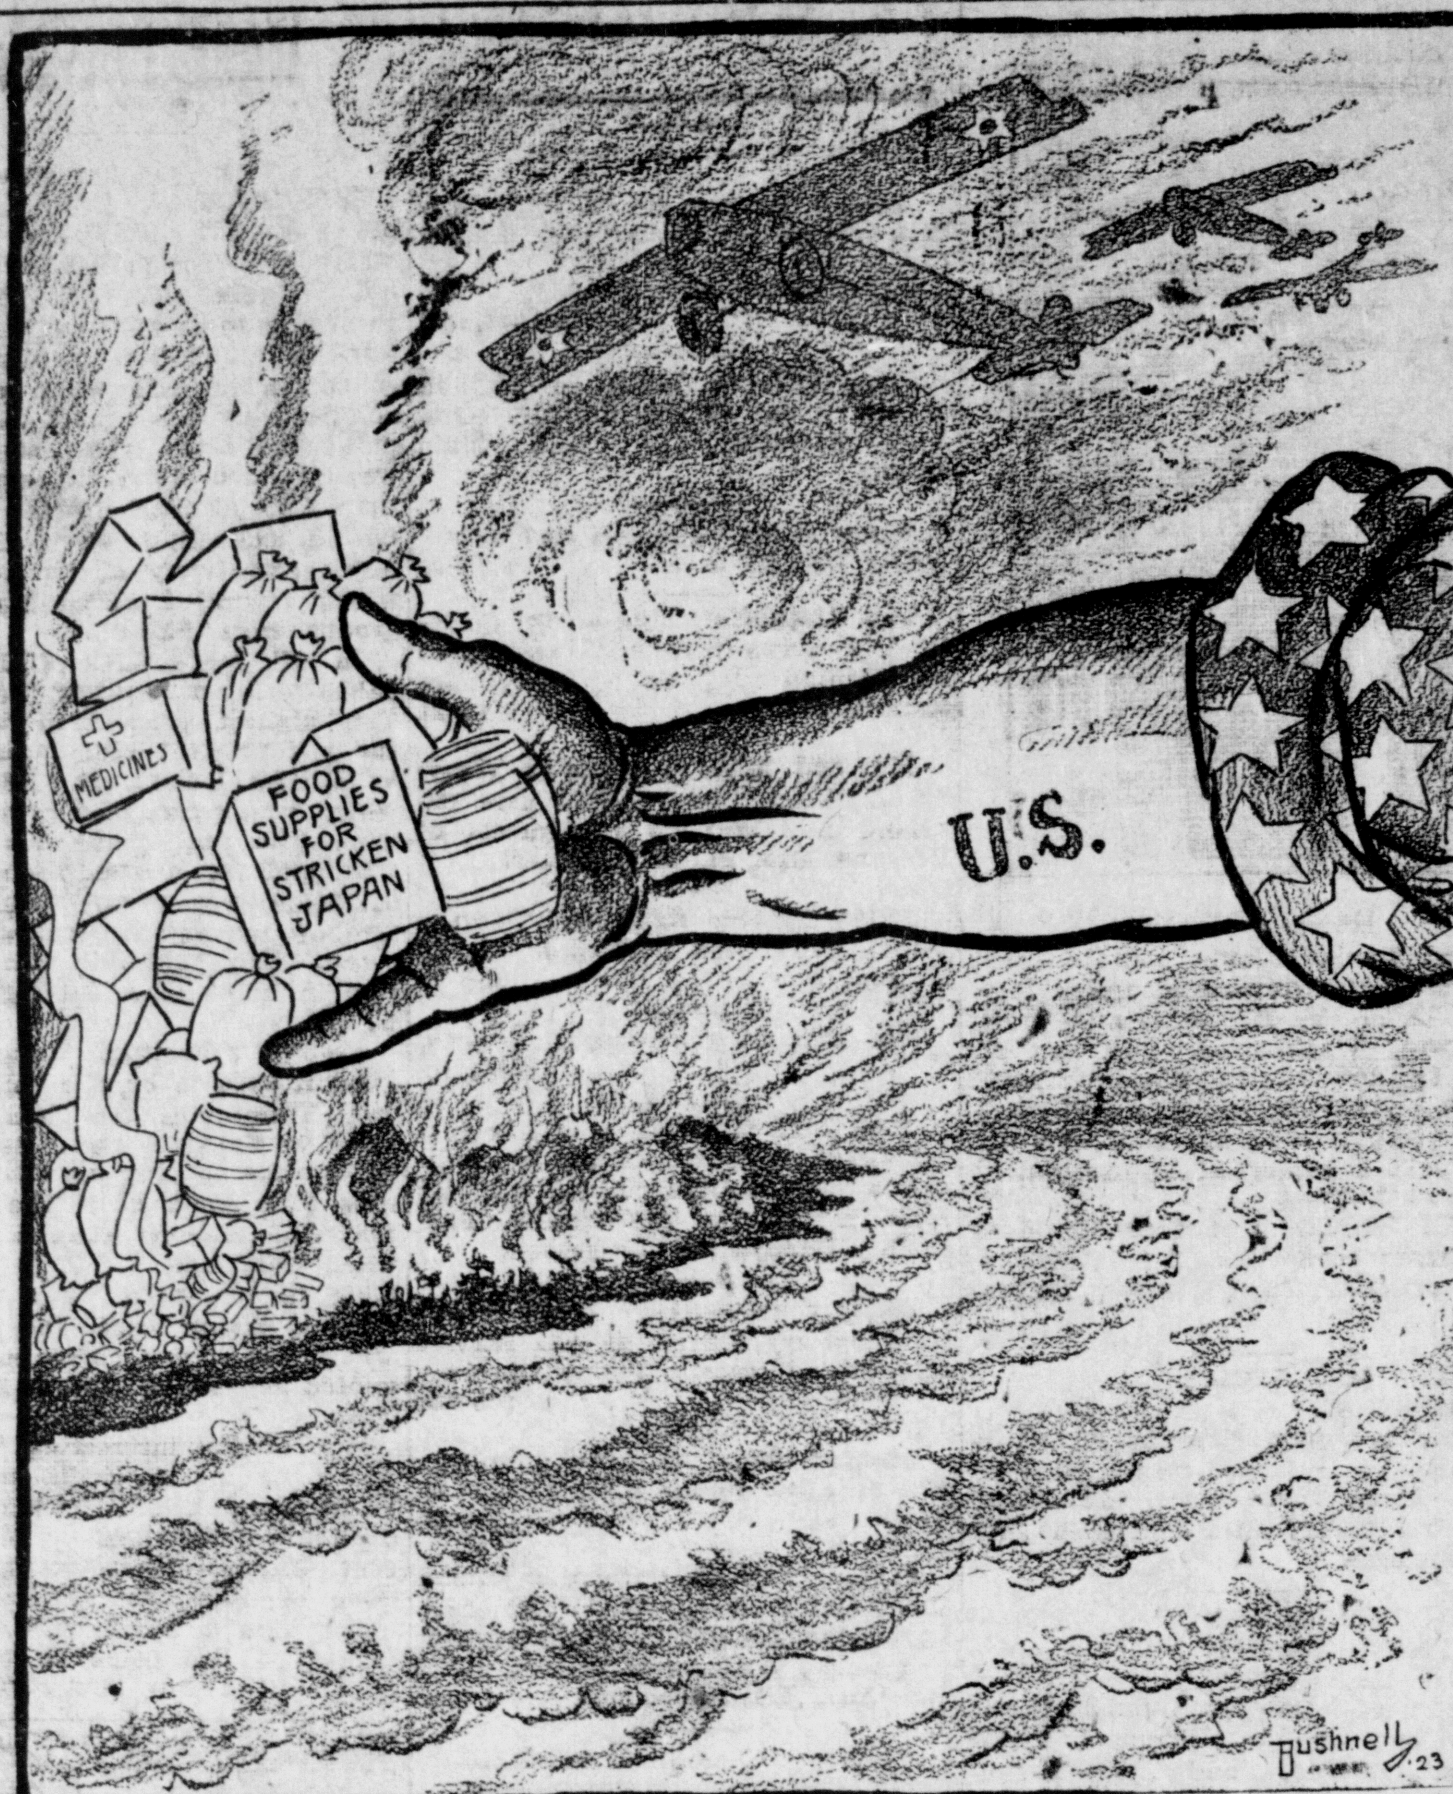

Ada is honored by having as her guests today some of the few who still survive among us of a later generation. Sixty years of struggle with the problems of life have left marks on these veterans, but the fight of time can never dim the splendor of their achievements both in war and in peace, in hardship in war and peace and amid the prosperity we of the younger generation have been permitted to enjoy as a result of the sacrifices made by these veterans. History has for the most part been written by hands with little sympathy for the Southern cause and the Southern people, but we are strong believers in the principle that justice always prevails in the end, hence we look forward to the time when the verdict will be rendered by unprejudiced historians, knowing that when it is finally returned it will be in favor of the Confederate soldier and the cause for which he offered his life.

Trying to stop criticism by force is a task that baffled the Czar of Russia in his palmist days. The more rigid the force, greater the volume of criticism. Very much like trying to put out an oil fire with water, simply spreads the flames over a greater extent. Even the most upright ones will be criticized and the only thing one can do is to seek to conduct one's self in such a manner that the world will recognize the injustice of the harsh words flung against one.

Whether under the Oklahoma constitution, the members of the legislature have a right to call themselves into an extraordinary session is a matter for the courts to decide, but when the Governor threatens to arrest them if they assemble he is going entirely too far. They are duly elected officials of the great state of Oklahoma, and in the honest discharge of what they consider their duty they should not be molested. Military autocracy will not get by in this modern age.

Assuming that Governor Walton has the right to use the militia to stop the members of the legislature from assembling—and we by no means grant the assumption is sound—he will make a blunder if he attempts to do it. It seems reasonable that if the legislature has a right to try a governor for alleged misuse of his position, it would have the power to assemble. At any rate, an official should never object to his acts being investigated by a regularly constituted investigating body.

HAWAII KEEPS OPIUM SALES AS PRICE DROPS

(By the Associated Press)
HONOLULU, Sept. 19.—Federal officials here are continuing intensive efforts to curb the traffic in illicit drugs, which is reported to be increasing appreciably, with large supplies of opium secreted here as evidenced by the fact that the juice of the poppy is quoted lower than it has been for years.

In addition to attempting to induce steamship operators to mount machine guns on the after part of their vessels in order to frighten away the small boats, which pick up packages of the drugs thrown from the trans-Pacific ships as they are entering or leaving port, the federal officials also are enforcing that portion of the narcotic act providing that alien violators may be deported to their native land.

One oriental, convicted of violating the narcotic laws, has been deported already and several other orientals, also convicted, are being investigated by the immigration department with a view to obtaining their deportation.

Illicit drugs valued at $9,000, the largest shipment ever sent from the Honolulu office, have been dispatched to the Bureau of Technology, as the result of seizures during the first six months of 1923. The shipment consists of 10 pounds of opium valued at $4,000, and cocaine valued at $5,000. Opium pipes, lamps, and other paraphernalia, valued at $5,000, were destroyed by the narcotic squad here during the semi-fiscal year.

EXPLOSION IN STUDIO BLOWS ACTOR SKY-HIGH

Raymond Hatton Loses One Perfectly Good Set of Eyebrows

Raymond Hatton lost a perfectly good pair of eyebrows and blew up a set during the filming of "A Man of Action," Thomas H. Ince's new mystery-comedy. The scene he was making called for just such an explosion as occurred but nobody had planned on having it happen that way.

Hatton in the picture plays the role of "Hoppy," a shell shocked youth who has fallen in with a bunch of crooks and who has a mania for discovering a noiseless explosive. At all times and places he pursues his hobby, stirring up salt pepper, mustard, epsom salts, baking powder and anything else that he can lay his hands on in the goofy hope of finding something both effective and noiseless. When he finally got some bullets into one of his mixtures and puts it on a stove, the result registers with tremendous effect and an equal amount of noise.

Lead bullets were used in the making of this scene but in some way a real bullet got in with the props and as the cameras were grinding away there was suddenly a terrific noise and a scene that far outstripped the wildest hopes of James Horne who was making the picture. The cameras got a lens full before any one stopped to inquire what had happened.

Luckily Hatton was uninjured except for a pair of singed eyebrows and no damage was done beyond the fact that the set which was being used was so badly wrecked that it had to be built over again. One set more or less is nothing to a movie company however especially as the scene which the cameras caught is a sure-fire laugh.

Douglas MacLean and Marguerite de la Motte are featured with Hatton in "A Man of Action," which is now running at the McSwain theatre.

(By the Associated Press)
NORWICH, Conn., Sept. 19.—Four specially valuable violins are in the collection of the late Archibald Mitchell, dry goods merchant, whose death occurred here recently.

They are the "Bott" Stradivari (1723), the "Earl" Stradivari (1722), the "Jarnowick" (1741) and the "Healy" Stradivari (1711). The "Bott" is regarded as one of the most widely known instruments in the United States. It was at one time owned by the Duke of Cambridge, and afterwards by Louis Spohr, passing later into the hands of the late Prof. John Bott who, as a young man, had been a pupil of Spohr.

The "Earl" is of exceptional size and weight which distinguishes it from any previous or later work of Stradivari. It was purchased about 1820 by the founder of the London Royal Academy of Music, the Earl of Westmoreland, while he was ambassador at Vienna.

The "Jarnowick" is a splendid specimen of the last type of the master. It is contemporary with the "Paganini" Guerneri (1743), now preserved in the Municipal Palace at Genoa, which, in the hands of the great Maestro, delighted so many thousands in Europe.

The "Healy" is one of the very few perfect Stradivari violins in existence. Mr. Mitchell was one of the founders of a dry goods concern here which has stores in Portland, Me., and in Grand Rapids, Mich., and which at one time operated stores in Port Wayne, Ind., Detroit and Saginaw, Mich., and Middletown, Conn.

POPE PROPS UP EDICT FOR IMMODEST DRESS

(By the Associated Press)

ROME, Aug. 24.—As a result of the recent sensational incident when 150 women, forming a part of a deputation to the pope, were turned back from the Vatican because their dresses were low cut at the neck and had short sleeves, the Papal Majordomo has issued a new set of regulations for dress when being received by the Pope.

Women must wear dresses covering the arms to the wrist and the neck to the chin, says the regulations. The dresses must be made of thick material and not transparent and be long enough to reach down to the ankles of the wearer. Dresses giving undue prominence to the figure are discouraged.

Gloves must not be worn and only wedding or engagement rings may adorn the fingers of intending visitors to the Vatican who are now submitted to three examinations, viz, first at the door, second at St. Damaso Courtyard, and if they pass these posts their invitation card is crossed with a blue mark. The third examination is made in the Papal antechamber, where successful candidates receive a red cross on their cards.

Make-up of any description is strictly forbidden. Hair dye is tolerated provided it is not of the conspicuous peroxide tint.

WHAT THEY SAY

Martial Law in Oklahoma
Under conditions like the present it is never well to indulge in inflammatory discussions, neither is it proper to sit silently by and endure oppression in a free country. This is Constitution week. To-day the veterans of the Confederacy are met in our midst. Martial law exists throughout the State. It can do no harm to think soberly and form our own conclusions. It is not the purpose of this article to indulge in any discussion but it is not improper to give to the public the wisdom of the highest court in our land on the question of martial law and the rights of the American citizens to the benefit of the Writ of Habeas Corpus. To and I am hereafter quoting from the Supreme Court of the United States in the Milligan case, 18 L. Ed. 281. The language is so plain that any layman or ordinary intelligence can comprehend its meaning. For a full understanding of what is meant the facts, briefly are as follows:
During the Civil War in the early part of 1865 the president of the United States declared Martial Law in the State of Indiana. Milligan was charged by the Military Court with conspiracy to seize the U. S. and State Arsenal, to release prisoners of war and to arm them and to raise other forces and to march into Kentucky and Missouri to co-operate with the Confederate forces and that he communicated with the Confederacy to try to induce them to invade the States of Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois, intending to join and co-operate with them in case of an invasion, and that he armed himself and followers for that purpose. That he advised and counseled the Militia of the United States to destroy her authority and to resist the draft, etc.
He was tried by a military court and sentenced to be hanged. This order was approved by the president of the United States. The case came properly before the Supreme Court of the United States on Writ of Habeas Corpus. The defendant was discharged from custody.
The opinion in part follows. The italics are mine.
ROBERT WIMBISH.
"No graver question was ever considered by this court, nor one which more nearly concerns the rights of the whole people; for it is the birthright of every American citizen when charged with crime, to be tried and punished according to law. The power of punishment is alone through the means which the laws have provided for that purpose, and if they are ineffectual, there is an immunity from punishment, no matter how great an offender the individual may be, or how much his crimes may have shocked the sense of justice of the country, or endangered its safety. By the protection of the law human rights are secured; withdraw that protection, and they are at the mercy of wicked rulers, or the clamor of an excited people. If there was law to justify this military trial, it is not our province to interfere; if there was not it is our duty to declare the nullity of the whole proceedings. The decision of this question does not depend on argument or judicial precedents numerous and highly illustrative as they are. These precedents inform us of the extent of the struggle to preserve liberty and to relieve those in civil life from military trials. The founders of our government were familiar with the history of that struggle; and secured in a written Constitution every right which the people had wrested from power during a contest of ages. By that Constitution and the laws authorized by it, this question must be determined. The provisions of that instrument on the administration of criminal justice are too plain and direct to leave room for misconstruction or doubt of their true meaning. Those applicable to this case are found in that clause of the original Constitution which says 'that the trial of all crimes except in cases of impeachment shall be by jury; and in the fourth, fifth, and sixth articles of the amendments. The fourth proclaims the right to be secure in person and effects against unreasonable search and seizure; and directs that a judicial warrant of probable cause supported by oath or affirmation. The fifth declares 'that no person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on presentment by a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval service in time of war or public danger, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law.' And the sixth guarantees the right of trial by jury, in such manner and with such regulations that with upright judges, the innocent will be an able bar, the guilty punished. It is in these words: 'In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.' These securities for personal liberty thus embodied were such as wisdom and experience had demonstrated to be necessary for the protection of those accused of crime. And so strong was the sense of the country of their importance, and so jealous were the people, that these rights, highly prized, might be denied them by implication that when the original Constitution was proposed for adoption it encountered severe opposition; and, but for the belief that it would be so amended as to embrace them, it would never have been ratified.

"Time has proven the discernment of our ancestors; for even these provisions, expressed in such plain English words, that it would seem the ingenuity of man could not evade them, are now, after the lapse of more than seventy years, sought to be avoided. Those great and good men foresaw that troublesome times would arise, when rulers and people would become restive under restraint, and seek by sharp and decisive measures to accomplish ends deemed just and proper; and that the principles of constitutional liberty would be in peril, unless established by irrepealable law. The history of the world had taught them what was done in the past might be attempted in the future. The Constitution of the United States is a law for rulers and people, equally in war and in peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men, at all times, and under all circumstances. No doctrine, involving more pernicious consequences was ever invented by the wit of man than that any of its provisions can be suspended during any of the great exigencies of government. Such a doctrine leads directly to anarchy or despotism, but the theory of necessity on which it is based is false; for the government within the Constitution, has all the powers granted to it which are necessary to preserve its existence, as has been happily proved by the result of the great effort to throw off its just authority.
"Have any of the rights guaranteed by the Constitution been violated in the case of Milligan? And if so, what are they?
"Every trial involves the exercise of judicial power; and from what source did the Military Commission that tried him derive their authority? Certainly no part of the judicial power of the country was conferred on them; because the Constitution expressly vests it in one Supreme Court and such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish; and it is not pretended that the commission was a court ordained and established by Congress. They cannot justify on the mandate of the President; because he is controlled by law, and has his appropriate sphere of duty, which is to execute, not to make, the laws; and there is no unwritten criminal code to which resort can be had as a source of jurisdiction.
"One of the plainest constitutional provisions was, therefore, infringed when Milligan was tried by a court not ordained and established by Congress, and not composed of judges appointed during good behavior. ***
"It will be borne in mind that this is not a question of the power to proclaim martial law, when war exists in a community and the courts and civil authorities are overthrown. Nor is it a question what rule a military commander at the head of his army, can impose on States in rebellion to cripple their resources and quell the insurrection. The jurisdiction claimed is much more extensive. The necessities of the service, during the late Rebellion, required that the loyal states should be placed within the limits of certain military districts and commanders, appointed in them; and it is urged, that this, in a military sense, constituted them the theater of military operations; and, as in this case, Indiana had been and was again threatened with invasion by the enemy, the occasion was furnished to establish martial law. The conclusion does not follow

HARD TIMES AID TO ALIEN INFUX

Sweden's Financial Status Sends Many Immigrants to United States.

(By the Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 19.—The influence of hard times on Swedish immigration to the United States is illustrated by recent reports from Swedish iron and steel works, and from L. W. Fagerlund, governor of the Aaland Islands.

The recent labor conflict caused a number of workers to leave their homes for America, attracted by the reports of industrial prosperity in that country. It appears that most of these emigrants were skilled workers.

Governor Fagerlund says that 548 Aalanders left for America during the first six months of this year. He has made a study of the causes of this exodus and has arrived at some interesting deductions. One category, he states, consists of young men who wish to perfect themselves in the latest working methods of their trade or profession intending ultimately to return to the home country. Another group includes masons and construction workers who hope for steady employment in America. Others go out in the hope of earning enough money to pay off the debt on their family homesteads. Some are younger sons of farming families who are tired of working at home for almost no pay.

Unfortunately, the governor states, very few return to their native soil, and of those who do come back many cannot adapt themselves to home conditions and finally turn again to America. This seems to be the case, especially with the women, who find work on the home farms too strenuous after having become used to lighter kinds of work in America.
